

IN THE WOMAN'S WORLD

SCHOOL WORK NOW THE POINT

After a summer of glorious recreation and pleasurable exercise the school children, both old and young, have put aside play for work.

The absolute putting away of frivolities however is done most conscientiously by the college student who during the four years of his course has little time for recreation. The grammar school student has too much, or rather makes too much time for play and in many instances the studies are neglected.

The preparatory schools convene at nine o'clock have two recesses during the day and close at two. These are easy hours for the child. Too easy possibly, for it pays little heed to its studies before reaching the seventh or eighth grades. Many of the subjects are not comprehended by the student who is usually inclined to leave the hard work to the teacher, taking little of the burden upon himself. The moment the two o'clock bell rings, books are cast aside and not taken up until the morrow. The only way to remedy this condition is for the mother to take her child in hand and to make him study. This is not so easily done as said, but nevertheless can be done if the old proverb "spare the rod and spoil the child" be eliminated.

If a youngster be allowed to play to his heart's content until four o'clock and then from four until supper time goes to his studies and thinkingly tries to learn his lessons a great improvement will soon be shown in his report card. One reason that children in boarding schools do so well is that they are compelled to study at certain hours. The life of the grammar school student is almost carefree, and usually he gives little thought to the future. Today's pleasures are sufficient. The high school student, however has rather a hard time, and mother instead of trying to make him study, is usually looking for some healthy recreation for him.

A WOMAN WHO HAS DONE MUCH FOR THE CHILDREN

MISS JULIA C. LATHROP
Chief of the new Children's Bureau at Washington.

In the first almost any course adopted by the student, particularly by the girls is difficult. In one of the high schools here the student must have eighteen credits before gaining graduation. This means that she must take up four regular subjects each year, and during the four years must take enough of the extras, counting one third of a point each to make the eighteen. At the opening of the year the student is told that each of the regular subjects require one hour a day and each of the extras one hour a week. Naturally this can be done or the faculty would not demand it. The school day consists of about six hours divided into eight periods. The first period lasts from eight-thirty till nine, the second from nine fifteen to ten and so on. Four of the periods of the day are given over to the regular subjects while there is an average of one period a day given over to some one of the extra subjects. This leaves about two hours for study in school and out of the school hours time for the pursuit of the other two studies must be found. Then there must be found an hour a week for each of the extras. After the studying is completed there is little time for recreation. If the school work is done during the day there is left only the night for exercising and night exercise is not very profitable.

It is necessary for the school girl to have enough mental recreation and physical labor to insure her development physically and mentally. It is really wise for as many of the girls who feel that they can take part in all of the school athletics. Each year the girls may if they wish take up hockey, basket ball, swimming, and tennis. All of these recreations are muscle developers and are healthy. Exercise should be indulged in by the girls and the forms of exercise provided by the schools are as profitable as any other.

Many of the girls take no interest in the school athletics because their parents do not urge them to do so. Some mothers are inclined to think that their daughters are only wasting their energy when spending their time in these sports. But as the girl must exercise some time during the day it is well that she take interest in school sports, and in this way, for the hours are neither too long nor too short but are long enough to make the student feel fresh when taking up her books to prepare the lessons for the following day.

Social Notes

Mrs. Tenney Honored.
Mrs. E. D. Tenney, who recently arrived in San Francisco from her home in Honolulu, is being entertained at a succession of delightful affairs during her stay in the city. Mrs. William G. Irwin was a dinner hostess of last week in compliment to Mrs. Tenney and Mrs. Frederick Knight gave a luncheon for her a few days ago.

Mrs. Elizabeth Pruett also entertained in honor of Mrs. Tenney, giving one of the more elaborate luncheons of the late season the other day. The affair, which was held at the Fairmont, was attended by more than a dozen guests who were gathered round a table strewn with pink and white rosebuds. Among those bidden to do honor to the attractive visitor were:

Mezbanes: Walton Thorne, Ira Pierce, Grayson Dutton, Florence Porter Pfingst, Jessie Bowie-Detrick, Andrew Welch, Frederick Panwick, Van Dyke Johns, John Rogers Clark, Harry Jenkins, William Perkins, Charles Farquarson, Frederick Knight, Fletcher Elliott, Mrs. Noonan.

Mrs. Maynard Dixon was hostess at an enjoyable tea on Tuesday afternoon, entertaining a group of friends in her home in Clay street in compliment to Mrs. Small, who was formerly Miss May Mott-Smith Cunningham. Fragrant clusters of pink and purple sweet peas, combined with fernery formed the dainty decoration of the tea table.

Mr. and Mrs. Small are visiting in San Francisco from their home in Los Angeles and will be feted at a continual round of affairs during their stay in the city.—Examiner.

Mrs. Lansing in San Francisco.
Mr. Nelson B. Lansing has come from Honolulu to meet Mrs. Lansing, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Timothy Guy Phelps, at San Carlos, this summer. The Lansings will return to their homes in the islands in October.—Examiner.

Miss Crassi Bulkeley and Mr. Bayard Hyde-Smith will be married on November 6 in Washington. Miss Bulkeley is a daughter of Captain and Mrs. W. A. Gill. Mr. Hyde-Smith is a son of Mrs. Eleanor Hyde-Smith. He has business interests in Honolulu. It was while on a visit to the islands that Miss Bulkeley met her fiancé a few months ago.—Examiner.

NEW FEATURES FOR YE LIBERTY

Two new features are advertised for tonight's change of bill at the Liberty Theatre. The Howard Sisters singing and dancing act that is claimed by the management to be one of the best dressed acts in vaudeville. Another new item that will perhaps be of more interest to the majority will be the initial exhibition of the American Biograph Company's first feature film. This picture has received columns of laudatory press notices and is said to be a wonderfully interesting scenario, while the "settings" are genuine scenes. The title of the picture, "Old Pueblo Legend," holds much promise of a very interesting subject, which this picture is claimed to possess.

Miss Vera Mesereaux's "exotic" dancing. Miss Vera Mesereaux, who has proven to be a magnet that attracts an intelligent audience nightly will present a series of new dances tonight, and for those who admire youth, grace and beauty and a program of purely American classical dances, tonight's exhibition will be well worth while.

The Kelso Brothers in their comedy juggling act and new motion pictures will complete a program that possesses unusual interest.

2500 SEE BIG PALAMA FIELD DAY

Over twenty-five hundred people, parents and children, visited the Palama Settlement Saturday where the track and field meets started the day with one continuous round of pleasure with a moving picture show in the evening to wind up the happy event.

The events of the day started at nine o'clock, but the children had begun to gather around the settlement house as early as seven o'clock, eager to be on time and not miss one thing. There was no special costume for the occasion and the people came in everyday garments, but the eyes that viewed the various events could not be rivaled in brightness or interest. The competitive spirit was aroused and the signal for the games to commence was welcomed with cheers.

The day's events were started with a basketball game between the senior girls and the junior boys, which resulted in the girls carrying off the prize in the shape of a pennant. This was followed by some real baseball games between the boys, and the young fans who gathered on the bleachers specially constructed for this event were as enthusiastic as any crowd which has ever gathered to witness the final game of the national series.

The greater part of the afternoon was taken up with field sports, among which were obstacle races between the girls and hobble races with the boys, but the children on the sidelines never tired or gave up, but stood spellbound in the hot sun, oblivious to all except what was going on before them.

In the evening the "crowd" filed into the gymnasium to see several reels of fine motion pictures and to witness the awarding of prizes by Secretary and Mrs. Walter L. Fisher. The Royal Hawaiian Band put the finishing touches to the day's festivities while the refreshments were being served, and the youngsters declared that it had been a real party and all their own.

GOOD STREET WORK.

Road Overseer Caldwell, with Charlie Clark as luna, did a creditable piece of street work last week, in that time laying asphalt macadam upon one side of Hotel street between Ala-kaea and Fort. When the other side is done there will be an excellent pavement, with every promise of durability, from Fort to Richards streets on Hotel.

WHOOPING COUGH.

If it is in diseases like whooping cough that the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy are most appreciated. It liquefies the tough mucus and aids expectoration. It also renders the fits of coughing less frequent and less severe depriving the disease of all dangerous consequence. For sale by all dealers, Benson, Smith & Co., agents for Hawaii.

The Hawaiian Trust Co., Ltd., offers some very desirable property for investors. It is in desirable "free-from-tenement" dangers. Mr. O'Brien of the real estate department will be pleased to show possible purchasers around.

HAWAII THEATER

We not only have bully photo-plays for the week-end, but for the week beginning. Here's the new four:

- No. 1—"THE LITTLE SHERIFF"
- No. 2—"FINDING THE LAST CHANCE MINE"
- No. 3—"THEIR NEW MINISTER"
- No. 4—"SMILING BOB"

PERHAPS IT'S ODD, but some people tell us that for recreative purposes they'd rather see our up-to-the-minute pictures each night we change than to spend the same evenings at the beach. Have YOU tried the plan?
